

New perspectives on transformation

“...talk about education cannot be confined to its literature. Such talk, which is also political, must continuously address major social changes and transformations in the economy, sciences, arts, and human relationships and customs. All of these larger forces influence how human beings – even young children – ‘read’ and deal with the realities of life”
Loris Malaguzzi

The REAIE Tasmanian REsearch Network invites you to attend and participate in an engaging and thought-provoking day.

When: Saturday 1 June 2019, 10.00am - 1.00pm

Where: St Catherine’s Hall, 192 Penquite Road, Norwood (Launceston)

Cost: REAIE Members - Free (Non-members $10)

Please register by 24 May 2019.

* Tea & coffee provided. Please bring your own morning tea, snacks and water.

Join us for three hours of engaging with people from different professions and disciplines as they share with you and fellow educators from around the State, their perspectives on what ‘transformation’ means for them and their work. A time for making connections and enhancing our own rich tapestry of understandings. During the session we will have the opportunity to hear from, work alongside and be in dialogue with:

- * Nellie Gibson - Artist
- * Nick Haywood - Musician
- * Dr. Richard Cetti - Urologist (with a background in neuroscience)
- * Fran Parker - Artist, Bush Kinder, and Nature Play Practitioner
- * Jayne Newman - Land Use and Planning Consultant
