

GUIDELINES FOR SUBMITTING 2025 CONFERENCE PAPERS

Submission Deadline:

Please complete the online submission by 5:00 PM AEDT, Friday 29 November, 2024.
Successful applicants will be notified by 28 February 2025.

Please read these guidelines prior to commencing your online submission.
Incomplete submissions will not be submitted to the selection panel.

The following information must be included in your submission:

- Speaker(s) name(s), position title(s), and organisation/affiliation(s)
- Contact details: work and mobile phone numbers, and email address
- Presenter information (100 words) for inclusion in the conference program and promotional material i.e., social media platforms, including qualifications and work experience
- A brief history of your interest in and work in reference to the educational project of Reggio Emilia
- Presentation type (e.g., seminar, interactive workshop)
- Title of your presentation
- Session outcomes (e.g., what conference delegates will gain from your session)
- A brief summary of your presentation (200 words max), including your target audience (e.g., kindergarten, LDC, school, university, leaders) as well as relevance of your paper to the conference theme.
- Audio-visual requirements for your presentation (late requests cannot be guaranteed)
- Names and contact details (phone and email) for two references

Each author is requested to submit a colour photo of themselves (head and shoulders). This image will be used in conference promotional materials and the program. Where children have been co-participants in your research, any supporting photographs/drawn images must have prior permission for usage from parents/guardians.

Please note: Any submission which aims to promote/advertise specific products, consultancies or services will not be considered for inclusion in the 2025 Conference.

Submission Link: Please click here to submit your proposal.

Conference Details: Planned in collaboration with Reggio Children, the conference will feature keynote speakers from Reggio Emilia, supported by presentations from the Australian research community. This event offers excellent networking opportunities with colleagues, organisations, and businesses across the sector.

Review Process and Guidelines:

All Conference presentation proposals submitted will proceed through a blind review by REAIE Board members. Papers will be selected on their relevance to:

- The Conference focus on the Conference theme of ‘Landscapes of Collaboration: New Possibilities for Education in Complex Times.’
- The amplification or visibility of the values of the educational project of Reggio Emilia.
- Relevance and currency to contemporary educational perspectives.

REAIE will notify all applicants of the outcome of the review process. It may be that some applications are selected for publication in the REAIE Challenge journal rather than presenting at the Conference.

Conference Fee: Successful presenters will pay a student registration fee. ONE student registration fee will be allocated to each presentation, additional presenters will be able to register at the early bird member price. There will be no ability to split the discount. A condition of presenting is that all presenters must be registered for the conference.

Reference: Moss, P. (Ed.). (2012). One city, many children: Reggio Emilia, a history of the present. Reggio Children.